Janesko Wines

Pinup art, meet wine. Wine, meet pinup art. Now make out.

Stuffmagazine.com, 5/16/2006
Cory Jones

Taking a bottle of wine to a party makes you look classy. Taking a bottle of Janesko wine with 50s-style pinup art on the label makes you the hit of the party. The women will be impressed that you brought wine, and the men will be impressed that your wine bearing a scantily clad woman is impressing the ladies. It's a win-win situation. This "full-bodied" vino was created when pinup artist Jennifer Janesko teamed up with Napa Valley's Haut Art Wine. The 2004 Cabernet Sauvignon has dark, fruity flavors and goes well with sharp cheeses, spicy dishes and even barbecue. And once the bottle's empty, you can still keep it around as a decorative vase. (We sleep on a pile of them!)
